“My approach to wellness embraces the balancing, nurturing, exercising, and developing of all aspects of our being and factors affecting health. These include: physical, spiritual, emotional, intellectual, social, and environmental. One of my primary missions is to research and share my findings and enable others to educate themselves and discover answers to their unique health-related questions.

I teach a comprehensive approach to help people identify their self-defeating habits and replace them with healthy alternatives so they may benefit from the resources available to all of us. It is our goal to listen to our patients and professional colleagues and consistently study, research, test, and develop more advanced technologies and therapies to assist you in understanding how your body is able to heal itself.”

Dr. Jerry Tennant

He didn't let his diagnosis be his death sentence.

Dr. Jerry Tennant, MD, MD(H), PScD is the founder of The Tennant Institute for Integrative Medicine, a world-renowned physician and integrative health practitioner, and the inventor of the Tennant BioModulator®.

At the height of Dr. Jerry Tennant's career, the unthinkable happened. Being one of the first surgeons in the US to place intraocular lenses in eyes after cataract surgery, he was unaware that viruses existing in a patient's eyes could possibly be passed on to the surgeon.

At the height of his career, he was forced to retire after diagnostic tests confirmed he had three viruses in his brain and Dr. Tennant's physicians told him nothing could be done. He started to expand his research beyond Western Medicine, into the world of energy and cellular therapy and healed himself.

How he found healing outside the Western Medical Paradigm.

For seven years, mental fog and fatigue took over and Dr. Tennant would sleep for 16 hours a day. He gradually began to realize that it was up to him to find the answers since modern medicine didn't have any.

As he learned more, he started to understand the importance of learning how to get a single cell to work correctly. If he could do that, in time, all of his cells would work correctly.

Through studying cellular biology, Dr. Tennant began to understand that cells must have enough voltage to work and that chronic disease is associated with a loss of voltage.

His next step was to find out how to measure the voltage, and then developed the Tennant BioModulator® which adds voltage to the cells and keeps it at optimal levels. Following this path, he was able to heal himself naturally.

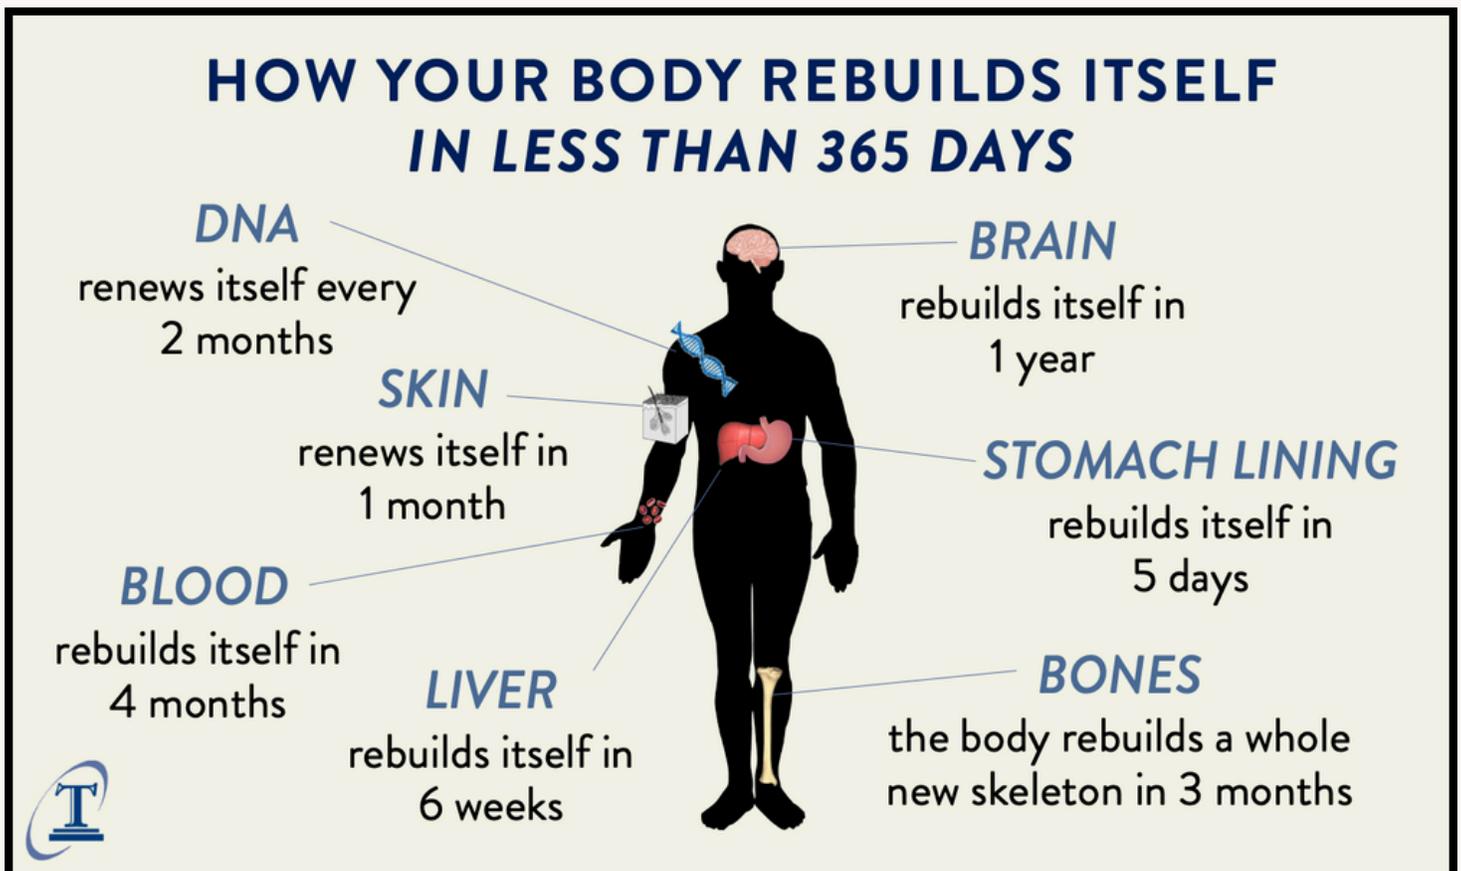

The Life of a Cell

Our cells are constantly wearing out and must be replaced.

Chronic disease occurs when you lose the ability to make new cells that work.

FACT: Your entire body rebuilds itself in less than 2 years — and 98% in less than 365 days!

Every cell in your body eventually dies and is replaced by new cells.

What does it take to make new cells that work?

Dr. Tennant has discovered 3 things that the body needs to make new and healthy cells...

Voltage. Nutrition. Detox.

Voltage.

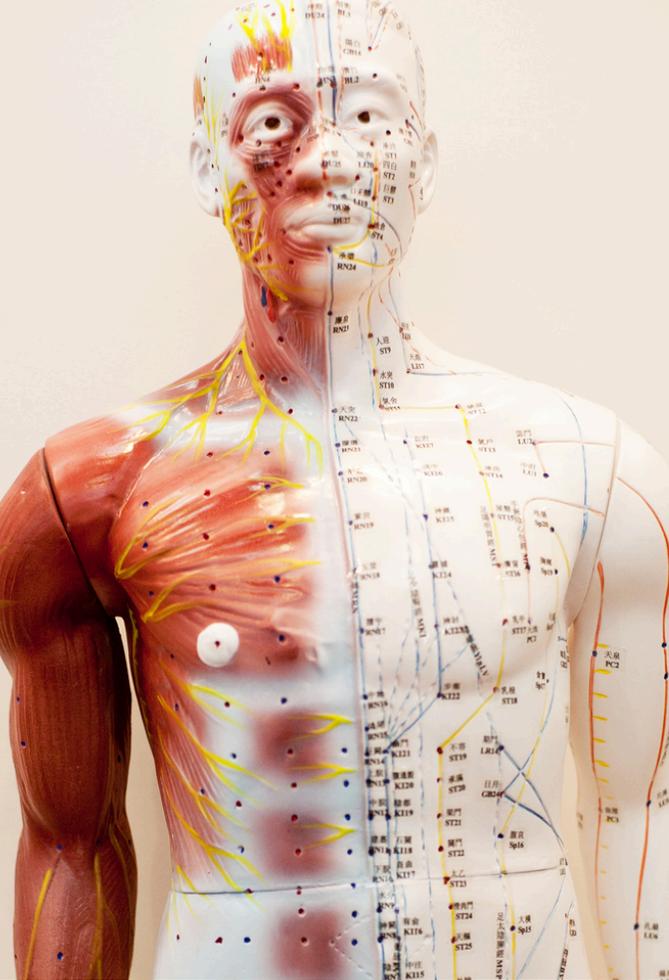

Cells need -25 millivolts (another way to measure pH) of electron donors to work. It takes -50 millivolts to make a new cell. Chronic disease is always characterized by a lack of voltage.

Nutrition.

To make a new cell, you must have all the things it takes to make a cell. If you are missing even one nutrient, your cells will not function normally. If a tornado destroys your home, you can't rebuild it with doorknobs and bathroom tiles — you need all the parts to make a new home.

Detox.

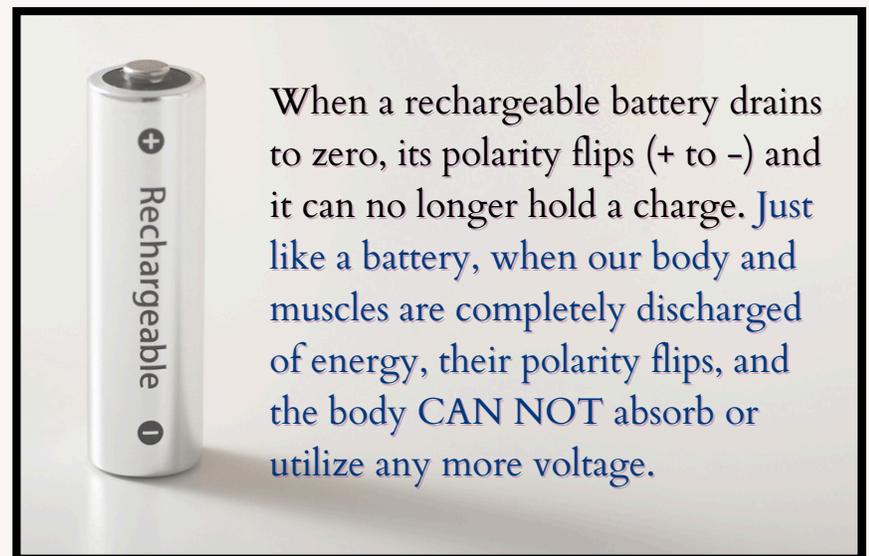

You must deal with any toxins that can damage cells as fast as you make them. This can include toxins from your water, and heavy metals in your food and surrounding environment.

The Importance of Voltage & its Role in Chronic Disease

Our muscles are just like rechargeable batteries. They are stacked one on top of the other to form a battery pack. Every organ in the body draws from its own “battery pack” to provide the -25 millivolts to function and the -50 millivolts to repair cells when they wear out or are damaged.

A stack of muscle batteries is what is also considered an acupuncture meridian.

The Tennant BioModulator® is used to add voltage in your body and the Tennant BioTransducer® is used to flip the polarities, but it is also important to address why your batteries drained (your polarities flipped) in the first place. Dr. Tennant has discovered 5 root causes for this voltage drain, continue reading to learn more!

The 5 Root Causes of Chronic Disease

Dr. Tennant has identified five underlying reasons for low voltage in the body, which can cause chronic disease if left unchecked.

(Don't Eat The Turtle Soup - Dental Infections, Emotions, Toxins, Thyroid, Scars)

- Inadequate thyroid hormone (when we address this, we usually order special blood tests that most doctors do not)
- Scars and tattoos that block our body's circuits (pathways for voltage)
- Dental infections (all circuits pass through specific teeth and an infection will lower the voltage or act like a circuit breaker to deactivate the circuit)
- Emotional baggage (stored as magnetic fields that block circuits)
- Toxins (bacteria, viruses, fungus, pesticides, GMO foods, etc.)

If you have muscle battery packs with reversed polarity, you will need to correct the ROOT CAUSE that caused them to drain as discussed above by correcting the thyroid, scars, dental infections, emotional baggage, and toxins.

How is our clinic unique?

We emphasize patient-centered care.

Your health is our first priority. You won't have to take second seat to insurance companies or hospital bureaucracy. We don't push pharmaceuticals for profit. Our treatments focus on you and you alone.

Our approach to health is integrative.

We don't take an either/or approach. We embrace all forms of legitimate medicine to create your treatment plan. From nutrition supplements to hormone therapy, you'll have access to a range of science-based options.

Your care plan is personalized.

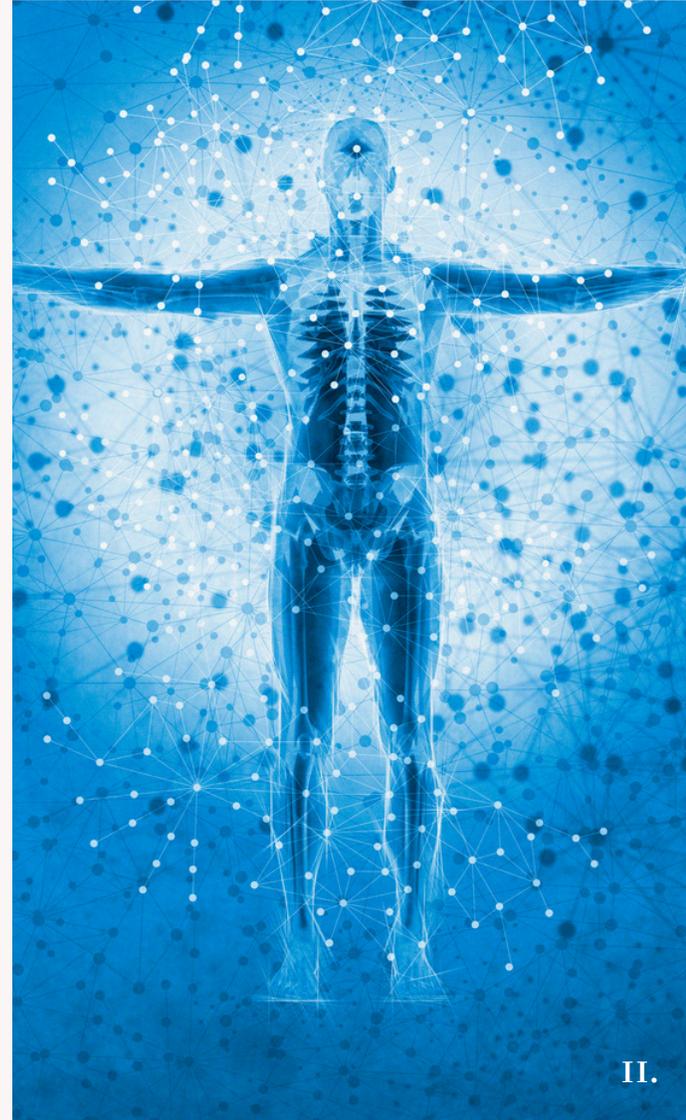

We stay with you on every step of the journey and leave no stone unturned. There is no one-size-fits-all when it comes to health. Your care plan will be unique to you and your health history/concerns.

How do we approach your individualized care plan?

When you seek care at the Tennant Institute, Dr. Tennant recommends commencing your journey with a comprehensive two-day exam. This thorough examination includes evaluations of your muscle battery packs, dental checkups to detect any shorts in the circuits, assessments of emotional baggage, examinations of structural issues, cranial nerve evaluations, and toxin analysis.

These evaluations provide valuable insights into which organs have lost their power supply, aiding in the identification of potential areas of concern to address.

Following the initial exam, the Tennant Institute offers a range of ongoing sessions and therapies tailored to your specific needs. These services are detailed starting on page 14 of this document.

Depending on your physical fitness level, you may fall into one of the following categories:

Athletic

If you are an athletic individual requiring a check-up, the two-day exam will be instrumental in evaluating your overall health and well-being.

Fatigued

If you experience ongoing fatigue and are often too tired to exercise, the two-day exam will serve as a foundational assessment.

Additional therapies such as addressing dental infections, emotional clearing, brain retraining, IV treatment, microcurrent therapy, and addressing toxin exposure might be suggested to propel your path to recovery.

Chronically Ill

Individuals who find themselves too sick to exercise may require a three-week intensive therapy program. Comparable to hospitals, the Tennant Institute boasts advanced equipment valued at $250,000 to aid those in need of targeted care.

Cranial Nerve Sequencing

The Nervous system can be split into multiple categories. There is the cortex of the brain and the brainstem. Coming out of the brainstem, there are 12 nerves called Cranial Nerves. These nerves are important for everyday function since they signal messages to the voluntary and involuntary muscles involved in blinking, breathing, swallowing, digestion, etc.

These nerves and the muscles associated with them should fire in harmony. However, when these nerves and muscles do not synchronize properly, they play tug-of-war with one another and end up being a major energy drain on the body.

Symptoms seen when the cranial nerves and muscles are not synchronizing are evident in people who have had car accidents, head trauma, PTSD, near-drowning experiences, dental braces, difficulty breathing, snoring, fatigue after sleeping, difficulty losing weight, and sexual dysfunction.

Cranial Nerve Sequencing helps retrain the body so that the cranial nerves and muscles associated with them are not playing tug-of-war so that the body is energy efficient. This also helps the body nose breathe, which is important for the body. Nose breathing filters out toxins better, helps the body have more oxygen for healing, and helps improve posture.

During an appointment, an exam is done in person or via telemedicine to figure out which nerves and muscles are creating problems. Exercises are then done during the appointment and videos of exercises are sent so that a person can retrain their body from the comfort of their home or can come to the clinic in person to do the cranial nerve sequencing process.

Energetic Exam

Our energetic exams check polarities, review symptoms, and address individual concerns. It's at this stage that we will order lab draws and discuss an action plan.

Crystal Bed Therapy

Our Crystal Bed Therapy is a 20-minute cycle of correcting polarities, unblocking scars that may be draining your voltage, and recharging the muscle battery packs of the body while experiencing sound and vibrational therapy.

Emotional Release

Emotional release sessions aim to identify emotional blockages that cause the body to have insufficient voltage, which can cause a variety of ailments/illnesses. We help patients clear blockages by disconnecting the emotion from the traumatic event without the patient having to relive the trauma. We use various methods to translate emotional trauma/experiences into just a memory.

Toxin Evaluation & Detox Services

Addressing toxins is a critical piece of restoring the body to health. They take multiple forms: there are microbial (viral, bacterial, etc.), airborne, chemical, and heavy metal toxins. We help identify what is causing energetic hypersensitivities in the body and have digitized antidote frequencies to over 400 toxins. We test each toxin and use Scalar Energy to apply these antidotes, reducing your energetic hypersensitivity.

Structural Adjustments

Structural adjustments (AKA chiropractic adjustments) reduce pain and aid the detoxification process. Getting regular adjustments can help increase the flow of energy and release toxins.

Lymphatic Manipulation

Measure the energetic responses in your body using Biofeedback and Electrodermal Screening to determine how your body is responding to healing.
